GENERAL GRANT—THE POLICY OF THE NEW PRESIDENT—THE INDIAN QUESTION—THE SOUTH—THE TENURE OF-OFFICE ACT.

[Correspondence of the Boston Advertiser.]

WASHINGTON, December 31.—If this next President has any policy it will be such that you can sum it up in three words—honesty, economy, manliness. I heard him speak one day of a public man to this effect: "His speech was a falsehood; there was nothing on which you could put your finger and say, 'this is a lie,' but the whole thing was a falsehood for all that; I've despised him ever since I heard him make that speech." There is no mistaking the spirit from which these words came. General Grant can respect an open enemy; he wants nothing to do with a man who shuffles or prevaricates, or is given to double dealing. He will show us an administration in which honesty and manhood are respected. He does not go to members of Congress and tell them that he wants this and that; he does not even say to them that he thinks such laws ought to be passed. If they undertake to pump him he is silent and non-communicative. But he is studying the position; he is thinking his way down through the situation, and from time to time he shows the results of his study and his thought.

Looking at the number and magnitude of the jobs that came into Congress during the first ten days behind that cloak "be it enacted, &c.," he said he sometimes feared there wouldn't be anything left in the Treasury by next March. If I could show you how the jobbers are organizing their forces, how adroitly they are laying their plans, you yourself might have some fear. To the man who hinted that such and such a thing was good and ought to be allowed to go through, he replied that it took money out of the Treasury, was not necessary, and ought to be killed as soon as possible.

The Indian question is one on which he has thought a great deal. Our present system, he says, is full of fraud—fraud on the Indians and fraud on the government. It ought to be reformed. The gigantic ring must be broken up; not more in the interests of the Indians than in the interests of civilization and public order. Our dealings with the Indians properly lay us open to charges of cruelty and swindling. He believes a transfer of the bureau to the War Department will enable us to stop this national disgrace of cheating and dishonesty—if the Indians will not behave when they are fairly dealt with, then we must force them to behave. In such a course lies their well being and the well-being of the government.

The Southern problem is one he has been obliged to study for some years. We do not want any reduction of the army at present, he says. He hopes the Southern people will see that he means to deal fairly with them—hopes they will, of their own accord, deal fairly with one another, and with the government. But we must have peace down there, he adds; the rights of all classes must be observed; every man who is a peaceable citizen must feel safe in his work and his home; if that safety cannot be had in one way, the government will have to find it in another; these murders and Ku Klux outrages must be stopped.

The persons who talk most with the General are constantly surprised and delighted at finding how wide his views are, at seeing how much he has already considered the details of the work he enters upon next March. He goes at things in his own way, and there is a racy charm in his statement of results attained. He makes no stump speeches in his office or his library—the matter of his mind is so narrowly that he can put it into a few words. He speaks so simply and directly that you have no difficulty in catching his meaning. He may decline to give you an answer, but so far as I know, he does not try to blind anybody with the smoke of diplomacy.

I think he will have to settle the Alabama claims. Is any one so simple as to suppose that he will keep Reverdy Johnson in England? You may safely say that he will not. Mr. Johnson is not doing us any credit, he said to one friend, and if the administration were in proper sympathy with the people it would recall him. Mr. Johnson, you know, tried to cover the sin of his hobnobbing with Laird, Roebuck, and Wharncliffe by the mantle of Grant's course toward Longstreet and other rebel officers. I leave you to imagine what Grant said when he saw that letter.

He will conduct the government with economy. If he uses the veto power, it is likely to be in killing schemes for taking money out of the Treasury. He is against jobs and jobbers, and I think we shall find he has a good eye for detecting jobs, be they never so carefully covered in phraseology. We should have the strictest honesty in collecting our revenues, and the strictest economy in their expenditure, he says.—This will be one of the cardinal doctrines of his administration.

He is no enemy of Pacific railroads. He favors internal improvements of all kinds. He wants to see industry thrive, commerce prosper, and capital multiply. But, unless I am greatly misinformed, he would not, even if we had no public debt, fall in with the idea that government must lead the way in these local improvements. As it is, he believes we should seek to pay what debt we now have rather than look for ways of increasing it. Hence hundreds of these river and harbor jobs must wait till a more convenient season. Hence we must get along for a few years with the Pacific railways already subsidied. The time will come when we can have other lines across the country; the time may come when government can afford to aid other lines; just now he is strongly opposed to any further advances of our credit. His talk with Congressmen on this point is decided and refreshingly vigorous. Persons who profess to believe that the future of the Union rests on this, or that, or the other great improvements, will not get much sympathy or comfort in interviews with him.

The tenure-of-office act was passed as a temporary expedient—a sort of war measure growing out of the fight between Congress and the President, as one Senator put the idea to me. Unquestionably some persons think it embodies a good principle—I am of the number. Undoubtedly its operation, from one outlook, has been bad. It has prevented the President from removing some excellent officers, but it has also given him an excuse for retaining many whom the country believe to be corrupt or inefficient.

I could not find any good authority for the assertion that General Grant says it ought to be repealed. Several persons with whom he has spoken firmly believe he wants it repealed—it would not be unnatural if he did. One Senator says he remarked that in his view it might properly be repealed. This is the strongest expression of opinion I have heard from him. To two or three gentlemen he has said that if it is not repealed the Senate ought to sit in almost continuous session next summer.

He cares less for party qualifications in an officer than for personal qualifications. He has said that we suffer from a too literal interpretation of the maxim which affirms that the spoils belong to the victor. Offices should be for the good of the country, not for the benefit particularly of any party. This I believe to be his view. I think, from what I have heard, that no man in office is to be removed merely because he is a Democrat. If he was firm for the country during her struggle, and is a faithful, an honest and a capable official, he stands a fair chance of keeping the place. Copperheads, political time-servers, blatant Democratic politicians may as well send in their resignations, to take effect on the 4th of March next. Existing vacancies and vacancies hereafter made will, I am sure, be filled from the Republican ranks. Yet the aim, first and last, will be to get upright and efficient men, rather than to reward party services. If we proffer such men for appointment we shall get the office, but the show for old party hacks is not a very good one just at this time.

How to deal with this problem of getting out Mr. Johnson's bad men and getting in General Grant's good men, while the tenure-of-office act is in effect, is a question for consideration. As fast as he can find them, the next President will remove the corrupt and the incapable—the work cannot be done in one month, nor in two months. Shall the act be repealed, or shall the Senate sit here through the spring and summer and autumn? The matter is worth your attention—particularly worth the attention of those who are opposed to the repeal.

LIFE INSURANCE.

The Most Vigorous and the Most Liberal Insurance Company in the Country.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

141 Broadway, N. Y.

ASSETS OVER

$1,000,000!

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, ... President.
ABRAM D. POLHEMUS ..... Vice President.
WILLIAM M. COLE ..... Secretary.
D. P. FACKLER ..... Consulting Actuary.
DANIEL AYRES, M. D., LL.D. .. Med. Examiner.

POLICIES ISSUED AS GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guaranties a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. Should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid.

This certainly is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.

Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the MOST LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States, are:

1st TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.

2d. A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.

3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.

4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.

5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. P. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

6th. Promptitude in paying losses.

7th. No charge for policy or stamp.

The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified in its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

It has $130 Assets for every $100 Liabilities.

Its premium receipts at the present time are nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS per month and are rapidly increasing.

The growth of the Ætna has never been equaled by any other Company whatsoever, in Europe or America.

Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.

ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks, promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.

The ÆTNA issues all the favorite kinds of Polices at the most favorable rates.

The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.

The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company whatsoever, and less than two-thirds of the average.

The ÆTNA is as liberal in permits to travel, in all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.

ANNUAL INCOME over $6,000,000.

The only Company that has the Low Participating Non-forfeitable Term Insurance with privilege of renewal. Rt. of rate at age 30 $14 67, which is nearly 40 per cent. lower than any other leading Company. Also Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends on contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.

Description of Policies.

First—Whole Life Policies,

Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.

AGES.

Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.

PREMIUMS.

Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment

DIVIDENDS.

All Whole Life and Endowment Policies, issued at the rates published herewith, will participate in the surplus from the date of issue,

The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.

If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Values.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums—and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, at an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amount of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.

NON-FORFEITURE RULES.

No whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid, shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein, but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase, taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1869.

DIGEST OF NEWS.

Gold closed in New York, last evening, at 1.34¼.

Cotton was quoted at 28.

North Carolina Bonds: Old 65, New 64½.

Rev. Simeon Colton, D. D., died at his residence in Ashboro on the 27th ult. He was in his 83rd year. He had been for more than thirty years identified with the educational interests of the State, and was, in many respects, a remarkable man, of great usefulness.

We regret to learn that that excellent gentleman, the Hon. Jesse G. Shepherd, is seriously ill in Fayetteville.

James Bodwell, the oldest man in Warren, died on the 2nd. He was born in 1776.

A melancholy affair occurred on Tuesday, at Red Banks, on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad. Mr. Simon McRae, a young gentleman of excellent character, had an altercation with a negro, and, under circumstances of great provocation, shot and killed him.

Maj. B D. Williams has been re-elected Mayor of Warrenton, and the following Commissioners: Dr. G. A. Foote and Messrs. E. H. Plummer, J. R. Johnson, Thomas Reynolds, A. S. Webb, W. J. Norwood and W. J. White,—all good and true men.

Parks seem to be all the rage. The State has one of 3,000 acres in Chatham and Harnett.—And there is talk, among our enterprising fellow-citizens of Charlotte, of having a Municipal Park.

A negro named William Somerville outraged the person of a Miss Capps, living a few miles from Warrenton, on the 23rd ult. He has been committed.

G W. Cobb, Radical, has been elected Mayor of Elizabeth City. He received 183 votes, of which number 136 were by blacks. His Democratic opponent received 79 votes, of which 74 were by whites.

Mr. Voorhees, member elect from Indiana to the next Congress, has arrived in Washington.—His election is not contested, as is generally supposed. His opponent talked of contesting, but did not give legal notice of such purpose.

Paul Bagley is circulating a petition for the pardon of Dr. Mudd, prisoner at the Dry Tortugas. It is headed by Hon. Stevenson Archer, and is signed by twenty other Democrats of both Houses.

General Butler has introduced a bill, the effect of which will be, should it become a law, to enable him to avoid law processes in Maryland, where the meshes of the Courts are being liberally spread for him.

Wilmington, Delaware, retains the whipping-post and the pillory—ancient institutions at which progressionists, favoring the doctrine of theft and murder made easy, carp—but she has the very latest modern improvements to atone for this, viz: several negro Aldermen, who were elected January 4th. How many of the elect have taken the thong in former times is not stated.

Menard, the negro M. C. in embryo from Louisiana, was returned to his home, down South, at the expense of the United States Government. It seems his friends went back on him

The Tribune expresses its satisfaction at the news that Jefferson Davis, John Slidell, and other Ex-Confederates, now in exile, are about to return home.

"X," the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, concludes his letter thus:

"A resolution was passed in the Senate this morning calling upon the President to explain what he meant by issuing his last Amnesty Proclamation. From this, it might be inferred that it is not yet safe for those embraced within its terms, and who are yet abroad, to return to the U. S. Fears have been expressed this morning that still further aggressions are contemplated by the Radicals. The revolution is still onward. It may yet culminate into the formation of an Empire, after the manner of the Roman, under Augustus, with a mere mockery of the forms of the defunct republic."

It is probable the President will send to the Senate a communication in response to the resolution. Without attempting to give the substance of the President's response, it may be stated that the authority for the proclamation is claimed to be derived directly from the Constitution, and that the precedents therefor are ample, and go back as far as the earliest days of the republic, when Washington granted pardon and amnesty to the whiskey insurgents in Pennsylvania.

THOSE SENSATIONAL COMMUNICATIONS FROM GOV. HOLDEN AND TREASURER JENKINS.

The tone of the Treasurer's communication, which we published on yesterday, is not that of absolute despondency, but he merely says he is in "pain" at the failure to pay the January interest on the public debt, while the letter of the Governor is still more cheerful, because of the "confidence" he has in the Treasurer.

There are two things which cannot be long borne, without the consent of the people, and they are war and taxes. War will soon end, if the people are not enthusiastic for it. Heavy taxes cannot be drawn from a people, whose wishes are not consulted in laying them.

It cannot be concealed that the tax payers of North Carolina have not been consulted in regard to the projects and plans which it will require millions of money to perfect.

No greater calamity can befal a nation or State than its refusal to pay its just debts. It would be a matter for melancholy reflection, if it were true that the Governor and Treasurer of North Carolina were not able, in these flush times, in New York, to raise $300,000 on the faith and credit of the State. It can only be accounted for in one way: Capitalists in New York must have found out that the Governor has Jacobinized the State; that he has separated the tax payers and the non-tax payers, by means of secret political Jacobinical societies, and placed the controlling power of the State in the hands of those who pay no taxes.—They know, in Wall Street, that Gold is a coward; that it hides itself in revolutions. As soon as Edmund Ruffin fired on Fort Sumpter, out of sight the coward skulked, and few gold dollars, since that day, have shown their faces in the South. Holden, Sickles, Canby and the sword have just taken us through another revolution. In it, as in all civil commotions, the gold and good men went to the bottom, while paper money, counterfeit and base coin, with base men, rose to the top. Gold and good men sink and rise together. You will see no more gold in North Carolina, until you see Judge Battle, Judge Gilliam, Judge Warren, Judge Barnes, Judge Shipp, and the Judges who were deposed to make way for Henry, Starbuck, Jaybird Jones & Co., restored.

But the wonder, as well as the mortification, is, that the Governor and Treasurer could not borrow $300,000 in New York.—That they did not do it, we know; that they could not do it, we do not believe—and we here give our reason for the belief: Mr. Thomas Webb, as President of the North Carolina Railroad, in 1867, borrowed some $200,000, without mortgage or bonds as collaterals. He gave his note of hand, sometimes with, sometimes without, the seal of the corporation. Last year, as President of the North Carolina Railroad, with no other acquaintance in Wall Street than a letter of introduction from our late Treasurer, Kemp P. Battle, we negotiated a loan of $50,000 and could have done it for twice that amount—and this without mortgage or collaterals. Mr. Tate, late President of the Western Road, Mr. Bridgers, President of the Wilmington and Weldon Road, and Colonel Whitford, late President of the Atlantic and N. C. Railroad, have borrowed, and could to-day borrow, large amounts, and that without collaterals—and yet the Treasurer and the Governor can not!

Did they try? Did they go North? We understand that neither of them have been. Now the Presidents of any two of our Roads can relieve the "pain" of the Treasurer, in five days, by borrowing $300,000 for him in Wall Street. President Smith ought to have as good credit in Wall Street as President Webb,—in fact, better; for Mr. Webb, in his visits to the City, deported Himself, if not like a poor man, like a plain North Carolina gentleman, as he is, occupying one room in the second story of the St. Nicholas, and without gloves, while the new President, in his visits, occupies two rooms on the first floor and actually wears gloves, to boot! If President Smith, whose loyalty is not now to be questioned, will tell the fact about having dogs to hunt deserters during the war, he can borrow the whole amount. We venture that, though the fact may be known in Wall Street about the "Deserters and the Dogs," he can borrow half the little amount wanted, and enough to pay members, too. If he can't do as we have said, and more besides, we shall lose confidence in the financial skill and ability of Billy Smith, and the truck-hands on his road will quit calling him Nick Biddle. Yes, if he dont do for the Treasurer all and more than we have said, we'll agree the Treasurer may hang the Governor!

But we hear the Governor say this will all be wrong; the Railroad Presidents have no right to borrow money for the State, under their Charters.

Yes, Governor, but the honor of the State, in this matter, should know no law but pay. Besides, what care you for wrong? We told you it was wrong to preach secession, but you would. On the night of the 22nd. of February, 1861, in the Court House, in this City, we told you it was wrong to vote for a Convention to secede, but you would. In the late war, we told you not to invade the North, but you would. You said: "Take Washington, or we would lose Richmond;" and, in your paper, you gave the Confederate Government no peace, until the order was given to march on Gettysburg. We taught you it was wrong to call on "God to deliver the people of the West from such a man as Tod. R. Caldwell," but you would; and here the devil shall have his due, and we do you the justice to say that, in this case, you beat us. God, but not your conscience, told you, on the 5th. of June, 1861, that it was wrong for the Standard to ask "Who would plot for the head of Abe Lincoln!" but you would. So, never mind about the wrong of Railroad Presidents raising money for the State. Do what Pennsylvania did not, when she repudiated: "Make a great effort; book up at once and pay."

You and Treasurer Jenkins have already wounded the State in her tender part—in her reputation, Governor, in her reputation.

What will you do, Governor, when interest is to be paid on all the debts and bonds, issued by Conventions, and the last and the present Legislature? After you sell the Railroads of the State, what will you do? You have said many wise and good things, but we never knew you to do a good one, Governor. So quit your writing in the Standard, and go to work in the Executive Office.

THE INJUNCTION CASE.—The argument in the Injunction case against the Public Treasurer and the Chatham Railroad came up in the Supreme Court, on yesterday.—The argument was commenced, in the forenoon, by Hon. D. G. Fowle, for the Plaintiff. In the afternoon, B. F. Moore, Esq., argued for the Defendant. The matter will be resumed this morning. We hope to have it in our power by Monday to present a fair brief of the arguments pro and con.

EXCITEMENT IN FAYETTEVILLE.—The recent municipal election in Fayetteville was productive of much excitement, which nearly resulted in a general row. From gentlemen who arrived here on the last boats, we learn the following particulars:—A. G. Thornton, whose chief notoriety is due to his having married a negro, attempted to have registered the name of a colored man who was not entitled to registration; the Mayor interfered, and he and Thornton had an altercation which terminated in the latter's arrest. The negroes rallied, and swore the prisoner should not be carried to the Guard House; the police declared they would do their duty, and a difficulty was rapidly approaching, when it was calmed by Thornton's giving bail which induced his release. His bondsman was one Hopkins, from New Jersey, and locally known as "Jersey" Hopkins. Of his character it is needless to speak; his is a name justly infamous, and to dwell upon it would pollute the columns of a respectable newspaper. At last accounts, the good old town was quiet.—Wil. Star.

Assignee's Sale of Valuable Real Estate.

THE LAND BELONGING to Dr. M. T. Ponton will be offered at public sale, by his assignee in bankruptcy, on THURSDAY, the 14th of January next, at 11 o'clock A. M.

The sale will take place at the residence of Dr. Ponton, the land will be put up, without reserve, to the highest bidder, for CASH, and no postponement will be made.

The land contains about sixteen hundred acres, is situated near the town of Halifax, N. C., on Great and Little Quankey Creeks, and parallel on the line of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad.

The soil is naturally free and fertile, but has been much reduced by bad tillage. There are large quantities of marl on some of the land, and all of it can be easily improved and made good Corn and Cotton land. Much of it is well adapted to truck farming, and nearly the whole of it is equal to any in America for the cultivation of the grape. To any person who desires to invest capital in "Grape Culture," no better opportunity can be offered.

The land will be sold in several separate tracts, in one of which there is the best mill site in Halifax county, affording an inexhaustible supply of water power, with building stone sufficient for the erection of dams and mills.

Dr. Ponton will take pleasure in guiding persons over the land, who may wish to inspect it with a view to purchase.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1868.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the pens ty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to separate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, and long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, when formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with its mellowed character of the accolate element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restoratives.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, in 1851; and finally was deposited, as insurance mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleterious trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these Schnapps would have precluded the introduction and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the capacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorsement which has Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by unscrupulous hucksters; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, dishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick for whom the celebrated Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured as the establishment of the undersigned, in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the celebrated Aromatic Schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of imposition in question, the undersigned would say that he has introduced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every one of the preparation which bears his name, seal and trademark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the charlatans who counterfeit these evidences of identity and he casts upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are as they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest potable article of Holland Gin, heretofore manufactured, and, as such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.

DAVID L. MOTT, M. D.,
Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.

2C PINE STREET, NEW YORK, Nov 21, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the ample distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of Gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHAS A. SEELY, Chemist.

NEW YORK 53 CEDAR STREET, November 26, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "Schiedam Schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your bonded warehouse, and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or falsification; that it has the marks of being aged and (so recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

Respectfully,
FRED. F. MAYER, Chemist.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 1.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq:—

DEAR SIR:—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medical purposes has been long felt by the profession and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Bottled Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise,

We remain your obed't and servants,

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS.—Ashley's march from the Supreme Court-room to his new quarters.

THE LIVING PRESENT.—This is the name of a handsome new Weekly just issued in Warrenton by Walter A Montgomery, Esq It bears the impress of talent and energy, and we wish it and its Editor all the success which, we know, they will deserve.

MUSIC.—We are indebted to Mr. Eug. A. Bonner for two exquisite peices of Music, of his own composition: "In my dear Happy Home,"—words by R. W. Taylor,—and "Encore une Fois," Polka Mazourka. Mr. Bonner, who is a Master of the Science of Music, proposes to give lessons in this city, and those desiring instruction would do well to avail themselves of his services.

CIVIL ENGINEERING AND SURVEYING.—We have seen a plat of a survey recently made by Mr. John W. Johnson, of this city, of the Hinton plantation near the Neuse.—The plat is artistically and beautifully drawn, and is, in all its parts, indicative of a thoroughly accurate and scientific survey. The peculiarities of the country and all contiguous and notable points are distinctly marked, so that the eye takes in at once all that is necessary to be known of the surveyed premises. Mr. Johnson's office is above the store of A. D. Royster, Fayetteville Street, and we commend him to the patronage of all desiring work in his Professional line.

MORE TOURGEEISM.—An estimable lady of Alamance, some time since, when expressing her opinion, with some little feminine license, of scallawags and carpet-baggers, was grossly insulted and struck in the mouth by a Bureau carpet-bagger. We learn that, at the late term of Alamance Court, "Judge" Tourgee fined this cowardly miscreant five cents for the outrage! Comment would be superfluous.

FIRST PAGE.—The Washington letter to the Boston Advertiser, which we give on our first page, is published for what it is worth, simply as indicating what may be the policy of the incoming President. It is fulsome, to a ridiculous degree, but yet the quarter in which it appears gives more than usual likelihood to its speculations. For that reason, we yield it the space which it occupies.

MRS. C. C. SPENCER, the talented daughter of the late James Phillips, D.D., of Chapel Hill, has prepared a biographical sketch of her father for Wilson's "Presbyterian Historical Almanac" for the year 1869. Mr. Joseph R. Wilson, of Philadelphia, the publisher of the Almanac, will accompany the sketch with a good likeness of Dr. Phillips, provided one hundred subscribers to the Almanac can be produced at once in North Carolina. The subscription price of the Almanac is $3.00; but Mr. Wilson proposes that these one hundred, clubbing together, shall have it for $2.00 per copy, paid in advance, or $2 25 per copy, paid on delivery.

Cannot this number of subscribers be at once obtained? There are certainly that number of persons in North Carolina, who would be glad to possess a good likeness of Dr. Phillips. What say his old pupils, of every profession and calling and creed, throughout the State?

TEMPLETON'S TROUPE.—"Under the Gaslight" went off successfully, last night, before a large and delighted audience. The acting was spirited and the scenic effects impressive. It will be seen that Templeton has yielded to the pressure and will remain several nights more,—giving a brilliant change of programme each evening. This fine Company, of course, will continue to draw the full houses which they so richly merit.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS—CHAPTER 2.—We learn that Ashley argued, at length, before the Trustees of the University, on Thursday night, in favor of making the institution, like Oberlin, a "mixed school." That will suit Brewer to a T.

Correspondence.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
SENATE CHAMBER,
Raleigh, January 7, 1869.

Mr. Josiah Turner, Jr., Editor Sentinel:

I observe, in your paper of the first of January, the following Editorial:

"The last news from Oxford is that Gen. Littlefield paid Mr. Robt. W Lassiter, the Senator from Granville, $7,000,—at the rate of twenty dollars per acre, for land so poor that the very squirrels go about crying all the Fall, because of the scarcity of food.—A Granville man declared to us that he would not give fifty cents an acre for the land, and that if a kildee grazed upon it he would get so poor that Lassiter would have to let down the fence to drive him off the wheat, for he would not be able to fly!—Now this much is of record."

The above is a false statement, for which, as the matter now stands, you are responsible. You say, however, that a Granville man is your informant. If such be the fact, I expect you to publish the information with the name of the author.

In justice to myself, I ask the insertion of this Card in your paper.

Yours respectfully,
R. W. LASSITER.

SENTINEL OFFICE, Jan. 8, 1869.

HON. R. W. LASSITER, Senator from Granville and Colleagues of Cuff'e Mayo:

DEAR SIR: Your squirrel and kildee letter has just been handed me by the Doorkeeper of the Senate, Mr. J. T. Ball,—the man who wilted "Collards." I know you could not have been aware of Mr. Ball's disloyalty in knocking down Rev. S. N. Whitson, alias Collards, at the Republican Headquarters in this City, a few days before the late Municipal election, or you would not have made him the bearer of your letter. However, I take it Ball was serving the Lord in knocking down any labourer, or pretended labourer, of the vineyard, who is found labouring in such a place. May the Lord give your Doorkeeper strength to do as much for all pious bullies!

One of our own employees was the first man we heard speak of your sale. Two other Granville gentlemen spoke of your land, but, really, I am so recently in the corps Editorial, that I will not give their names, and what they said, lest I involve them in difficulty and throw responsibility upon them which the Editor should bear himself. However, I will run the risk with one: Your old friend and neighbor, Charles H. K. Taylor, spoke to me of the poverty of your land.

Your letter is not sufficiently explicit as to which of the facts is a "false statement"—the sale of the land for $7,000, the crying of the squirrels or the "disabilities" of the kildee.

Your letters are always interesting. Let me hear from you again. Make yourself more explicit on the squirrel and kildee question, and tell me, at the same time, all about the Penitentiary, and why you did not sign the Penitentiary report with others of the Committee. Write me if Gen. Littlefield, of the Standard, is in the Ring.—Hurry up the Penitentiary. Senator Sweet will need it for the abode of those members who, he alleged, had taken "dollars and cents" for their votes. Tell your friend Galloway not to be offended at my comparing him to the Lieutenant Governor. I remember his argument, at the convening of the Senate, "that every Senator was entitled to his seat, who could show a certificate of election, and, whether he was eligible or ineligible, was a question to be determined, after the Senate was organized. No Senator, not even intellectual Eppes, dared or could answer Galloway. Assure him, therefore, of my intention not to offend.

Your other brother, "Hon." W. P. Henderson, has called at the office, while I am writing this, and informs Maj. Giles that the Sentinel did him injustice. Tell him to communicate with us in writing, as you have done; and he shall be heard. We are ever ready to make atonement, when we do amiss to friend or foe. If we have wronged you about the character of your land, we are willing, at the next Oxford Court, to investigate the matter and publish what Levi Blankenship, and any twenty loyal men of the county, shall say the land is worth.

Tell Senator Sweet the Radicals say he is careless and rash, and if he don't make good his charge of corruption, they will expel him. Tell him the people say he is a man of understanding and good principle, and they accuse him of honesty and diligence.

I have no doubt we shall be politically together again, as we were when you had so much contempt for Governor Holden. When Brother Pepper comes praying for you all, in the Senate, show him the Standard, of the 5th. of June, 1861, where Holden asks "Who will plot for the head of Abe Lincoln?"

The Lieutenant Governor stated that the Clergy, who are members of the Senate, had refused to pray for you all—you understand me, to open the Senate with prayer. How is this? Have you all got past praying for, or did the pious Senators receive the admonition which you remember Brother Pell once spoke of, when he said he prayed for Governor Holden.—Governor Holden asked him to stop—he wanted none of his praying. Bro. Pell well replied that he should continue, until admonished by the Lord that his prayers were not acceptable. Each one of you should say, with Hamlet, "for my part, I'll go and pray." Let me suggest that you call in Rev. Whitson, and make Senator Winstead, who signed the address, hold the Doorkeeper off, for fear of a re occurrence!

Assure the whole Senate of my hearty co-operation in every measure that shall be for the interest of our people, and the glory and honor of the State, and I subscribe myself, as I am,

Your humble Servant,
JOSIAH TURNER, JR.

SENATOR WILSON.—Henry Wilson's real name is Henry Colbath. It was changed to Wilson by the Legislature of Massachusetts for reasons which were based upon no facts which have ever been made public, although there were circumstances attending the career of the senior Cobath which made it easier for his son to get on well under another name. The degree of distinction which the Colbaths themselves have been able to attain has been shown in the case of a younger brother of the present Senator who, under the old cognomen, has become a door-keeper to the Assembly of Massachusetts—though that honor was owing more to the influence of the changed than the original name.

He puts in a word at every little local meeting at home, and makes himself talked of by inserting a finger into every pie, how ever small. He travels round to all the ward gatherings, to all the apple-bees, and all quiltings, and all the prayer meetings. Lately, having joined the church, and having joined a temperance society, he now spreads himself upon piety and abstinence, and seeks in appetite the same tyrannical legislation that he has helped effect in slavery. More recently, too, he has shown a disposition to come out in mild, conditional favor of woman suffrage—conditional on its success—and, by and by, he will be willing to ordain the Presbyterian Church by constitutional amendment.

In appearance this man suggests his characteristics. He has a broad, very beefy face, with pale, little blue eyes, a lustful mouth, no beard, and what, with his oily looks and oily locks—long, lank, and tallow-like—he resembles Chatband thoroughly enough to pass for him without a change. His hands are of exactly the flabby sort, such as Mr. Pecksniff used to squeeze Mary's hand in "Martin Chuzzlewit," and he is a mixture of Stiggins added on to those other Dickenish persons which is true to the original.—Wash. Cor. Cin. Inquirer.

PARIS AND MASSACHUSETTS.—It is settled, of course, that Massachusetts is the nearest approach yet made on earth to St. Augustine's "City of God," that of all the communities ever founded among men it is the "wisest, virtuousest, best."

Also, we understand, it is settled that Paris is, of all the cities ever built since the destruction of the cities of the Plain, the wickedest, the most wanton, and the worse. These two points being conceded, it seems to us that a very curious interest attaches to the following statistics:

Population of Massachusetts in 1867, 1,267,031.	Population of Paris, 1,825,274
Paupers in Massachusetts 77,261	Paupers in Paris, 117,500
Proportion to Population in Massachusetts, 1 in 16	Proportion to Population in Paris, 1 in 15
Deaths in Massachusetts almshouses, 1 in 4.	Deaths in Paris Bureaux de Bienfaisance, 1 in 133.

Observe, further, that everybody who can goes to Paris, and that everybody who can goes away from Massachusetts. The one is the maelstrom of civilization; the other, a mere head-water of emigration. Paris takes care not only of Paris, but of all France and Europe afloat. Massachusetts apparently finds it impossible to take care even of Massachusetts.—N. Y. World.

THE LATE EX-GOVERNOR MOREHEAD, OF KENTUCKY.—The New Orleans Crescent relates the following circumstances in connection with the recent death of Ex-Governor Morehead, of Kentucky, at his plantation in Mississippi:

"There was something touching and even tragical in the circumstances of Governor Morehead's death. The plantation at which he died was a property which, after the war, when nearly seventy years of age, by dint of cheerful and indomitable energy, under difficulties which might have appalled a much younger man, he had restored from a state of wreck of devastation to a condition of good order and productiveness. He had made an unusually fine crop the past season. His pecuniary hopes it seems were dependent upon its proceeds, and the bulk of it was stored in a treacherous gin-house. Called up in the night by the announcement that the gin-house had caught fire, he rushed forth to behold the flames bursting through the roof. He read in them the nothingness of the year's arduous labor and expenditure, with the possible sequel of bankruptcy and remediless poverty. The shock killed him on the spot."

In a recent number of Blackwood, a writer, in speaking of the medical profession, says he has always felt the absence of medical men from Parliament as a great loss. "It is not mercy," he says, "that there are a variety of topics on which they could speak with authority and instruction, but that to whatever subject they addressed themselves they would bring that blended knowledge of facts and human nature, that composite structure to which science gives something and humanity more, which is sure to be of immense value in a legislative assembly."

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8, P. M.

Full Cabinet to-day.

Gen. F. P. Blair visited the President to-day.

Gen. Rousseau's death causes general gloom here. He was highly respected and loved.

The cotton Bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase raw cotton, drawn after the passage of the bill, delivered at the Railroad Depot or on steamers making direct communication with New York, at twenty cents per pound for uplands, and thirty for Sea Island. Purchases made through Revenue officers are exempt from tax, but, if sold to others than Agents of the United States are taxed three cents per pound. Cotton purchased by the Government shall be sold at a price not less than five cents advance on cost. Manufacturers within the United States allowed a drawback of two and a half cents for cotton used by them. A full report of all of the transactions to be presented to Congress at the commencement of each regular session.

The Virginia Committee are all here except J. W. Bolling and Windham Robertson. The meeting to-night was only preliminary and private.

CONGRESS,

WASHINGTON, Jan 8, P. M.

General Rousseau died very calmly, last night, at eleven o'clock, after having taking leave of his friends and staff shortly before.

CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.

Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $330,949.66.

Insures lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.

The "Southern" combines the advantages of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as those to pay cash may do so and secure a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.

It makes investments at home in good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst, and to aid in developing the resources of our section and to stop the annual drain of over SIX Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.

Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and Stockholders.

In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance and their aim will be to make the "Southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

THE GRECIAN BEND.

BY LYDIA L. AVERY.

Let's have the old bend, and not have the new;
Let's have the bend that our grandmother's knew:
Over the washtub and over the churn,
That is the bend that our daughters should learn.

Let's have the bend that our grandmothers knew;
Over the cradle like good mothers true;
Over the table, (the family round,)
Reading the Good Book 'mid silence profound.

Let's have the bend that at church they did wear,
Bowing them lowly in meek, humble prayer;
Not sitting erect, with the modern-mies air,
With the "love of a bonnet" just perched on one hair.

Leave the camel his hump—he wears it for use;
Leave the donkey his panniers—and cut yourselves loose
From fashions that lower, deform and degrade!
To hide some deformity most of them made.

Let our heads of false hair and hot yarn-skeins be shorn;
Let our garments be easy and light to be worn;
Don't shake in December and sweiter in June,
And appear like unfortunates struck by the moon.

Let's spend time in things higher than dress!
Time that was given us to aid and to bless;
Time that is fleeting and passes away;
O! let us work while we call it to-day!

Let's have the old bend instead of the new;
Let's have the old hearts, so faithful and true!
Away with all fashions that lower and degrade!
To hide some deformity most of them made!

A STRANGE CASE.—A murder trial in England has recently illustrated, in a very shocking manner, the liability of juries to convict innocent men, even of a capital crime. In August last a laborer named Cornish was found murdered in a field near the city of Wells, in Somersetshire, his head beaten in with a stone, and a man named Bisgrove kneeling beside him. The story told by this person on his arrest was that, being drunk the night before and finding Cornish asleep on the ground, he had gone to sleep by his side, and on waking had seen a tall man in the act of committing the murder. It was ascertained that another laborer named Sweet, and his mistress, a woman called Drew, had been in company with both Bisgrove and Cornish up to very near the time of the murder.

Both were arrested. The woman being called as a witness for the Crown, testified that she had quarreled with Sweet, had gone with Bisgrove alone into the field, and left him there with the sleeping Cornish, and had then rejoined Sweet and remained in his company until both were arrested.—Her story was supposed to be an invention for the purpose of screening her paramour Sweet, and the jury evidently believed that the quarrel had occurred between the two prisoners and the murdered man, and had been prompted by jealousy. Sweet and Bisgrove were both found guilty; but no sooner had they been remanded to jail than Bisgrove made a confession entirely exonerating Sweet, and corroborating the woman's story. The confession reveals one of the most extraordinary cases of murder without any motive that ever came to our knowledge.

The murderer had gone to sleep by his victim's side. "When I waked up," said he, "I was going away, but something seemed to tell me I must murder that man, and then I went over to the river and found the stone and brought it over on my head, and I threw it down on the man's head.—Whatever made me do it I can't think. It was not for money. I had no thought of money."

Now the conviction of Sweet on a charge of which he was entirely innocent cannot be classed with the mistakes of circumstantial evidence, for it does not appear that there was any circumstantial evidence against him at all, except the bare fact that he was in company with the deceased a little while before the deed must have been committed. He seems to have been convicted because the jury wanted to find a motive for the deed, and could not find one without dragging him in. They made up their theory of the murder, and not being able to set it out without a single culprit, they had to secure a second one. Fortunately the poor man's innocence is made clear before the time has come to hang him.—N. Y. Tribune.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!

AT HOME AGAIN!!

WITH A HOUSE RAMMED AND PACKED FULL OF

NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS,

FOR

1868.

COME TO

A. CREECH'S!

For Ladies' Goods! For Gentlemen's Goods! For Misses' Goods! For Boys' Goods! Ditto for Children!

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMPLETE. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some controlling the trade &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a lack of sense of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? So let them talk, puff and blow, but STOP, LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by to buy your goods. I intend to run through this campaign with my motto, to give each and every individual value received for their support!

A fine opportunity for the ladies to exercise their inalienable rights, as well as the gentlemen. Don't stop until you COME TO CREECH'S. You will find me at R. Smith's corner, attending to my business, always ready to give you the worth of your money.
